

THE AUDI 100 SERIES

The new Audis don't look dramatically different from before. When a car is designed for the year 2000, it doesn't need to be drastically updated in 1989.

THE AUDI 100/200 SERIES

Every aspect of the control center is designed to keep your eyes on the road—not on the dash searching for the control or instrument you need. Yet when your eyes do come to rest on it, it's well worth the look.

THE AUDI 200

The new Audi 200 is the culmination of over a decade of advances at Audi in virtually every aspect of automotive technology. In every area of performance, the goal of Audi engineers and designers was to take the new car to the very limits of innovation.
